

What Is A Relationship?

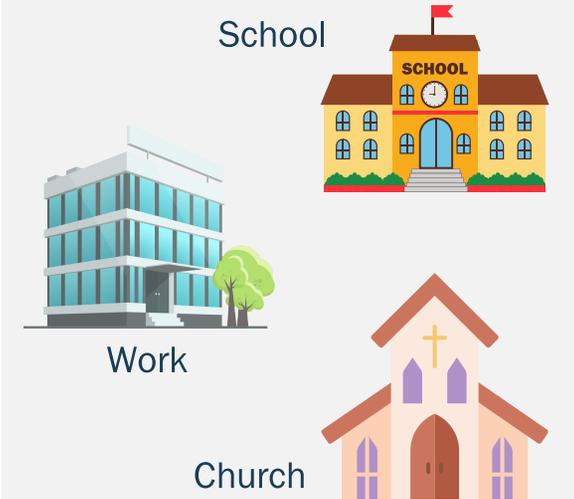

There are many people in the world.

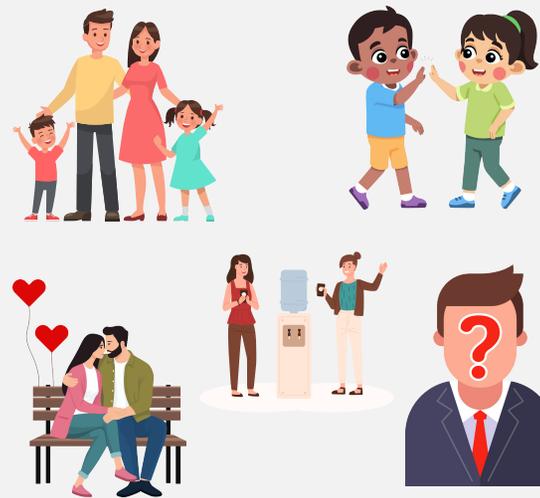

Some people may be new to you, and others you may know well.

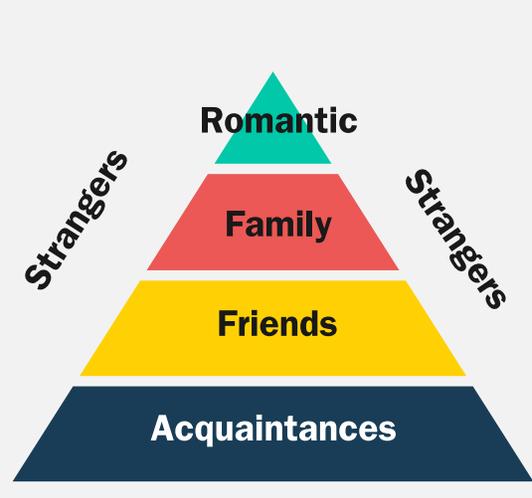

'Relationship' is used to describe how different people know each other.

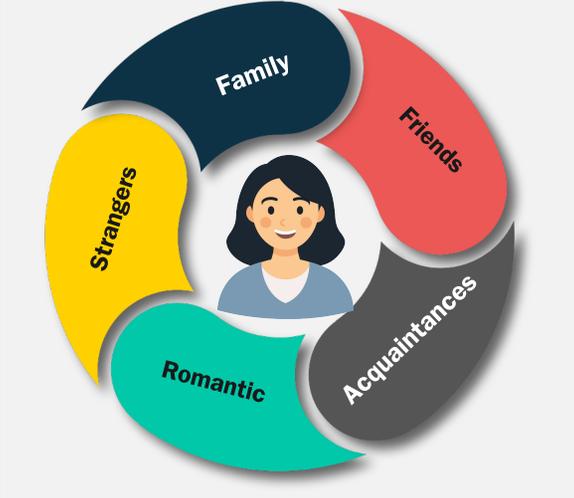

Relationships can be put in 5 groups: Family, Friends, Acquaintances, Romantic and Strangers.

These 5 groups describe the different types of relationships you may have in your life.

Not everyone has all of these relationships, but all relationships can be put into these groups.

Pennsylvania's leading source of autism-related resources and information
877-231-4244

The ASERT Collaborative is funded by the Office of Developmental Programs, PA Department of Human Services