

I have the right to be safe.

People should help me learn how to stay safe.

Let's talk about ways you can be safe.

It is not okay for people to take my money or any of my things unless I say it is okay.

I don't want to.

Give me $50 and your bike.

It is not okay for people to yell at me or make fun of me.

That's not nice.

Well you're stupid and no one likes you!

It is not okay for people to hit me or hurt me.

Stop hitting me!

It is not okay for people to touch me in my private parts.

No. Stop it!

How about this then?

This campaign promotes the idea of body autonomy for individuals with disabilities. ASERT has partnered with researchers at the National Crime Victims Research and Treatment Center at the Medical University of South Carolina to develop resources for the Be Safe campaign.

The Autism Services, Education, Resources and Training (ASERT) Collaborative is a statewide initiative funded by the Bureau of Autism Services, PA Department of Human Services.

It is not okay for people to stop me from being safe.

If someone is making me feel bad, I have the right to tell people.

I can tell a family member by calling ( ) -

I can tell a friend by calling ( ) -

I can tell my doctor by calling ( ) -

I can tell the police by calling 911.

