

Sometimes people are supposed to take care of me.

Sometimes people make sure I have food and water.

Sometimes people make sure I have a safe place to live.

Sometimes people make sure I stay healthy.

When people do not take care of my needs, it is called neglect.

If I need extra help, I should tell other adults that I trust.

